Conflict Minerals Policy

Redashe is aware of and fully supports not using conflict minerals and are actively working with Original Equipment Manufacturers of the products we provide to perform reasonable due diligence. Redashe will not knowingly purchase and / or provide products that contain conflict minerals. As a distributor / importer Redashe does not directly purchase or process any raw material metals.

Please be assured that Redashe Ltd will continue to take action to ensure that Redashe have adequate due diligence to prevent where possible use of conflict minerals and diamonds.

Redashe take seriously concerns that profit from conflict minerals may be helping human rights violations, and may also have a damaging impact on the environment.

Redashe Ltd is committed to the ethical sourcing of minerals and materials used by our manufacturers, and after making requests in good faith, Redashe do not have any reason to believe that our supply chain is using any such Conflict Minerals or Diamonds.
