

Environmental Policy – International Phytosanitary Standard of Wood Packaging Regulations

Forming part of the Redashe Environmental Policy, Redashe are committed to minimising waste by continually evaluating operations and by actively promoting the recycling of packaging materials both internally and amongst our customers and suppliers.

As an environment conscious organisation, packaging materials where practical will always be bio-degradable and all packaging will be kept to a minimum without compromising the necessary protection of the product.

When the necessity occurs for palletised product to be distributed from Redashe, only pallets displaying the Phytosanitary Standard Emblem will be used,

Thus drastically reducing the possibility of the spread of wood eating pests.
